GUTTENBURG STACE TRACE, NOV. 22. - The track at Guttenburg was just in that conditien to produce those reversals of form so puzzling to the bettors on the hillop track. The going near the outside rail was fairly dry and hard, while on the inner rail ft was soft and pasty. This put the spectators in a quandary. They and to guess whether the jockey would race his horse in the good going or keep him next to the rall in the mud. They were willing to take a chance, however, and so laid their money down just the same as though the races were cinched.

The weather was cold and binstery, and the wind swept through the stand and padcock in chilling blasts. The card was a fair one, but not specially interesting. The opening event was a dash of four and a m as far West as Kansas City and as far East as Calals, Me., there have already come to this city lovers of football who intend to see the struggle on Manhattan Field Thanksgiving Day between Yale and Princeton. They are veritable enthusiasts who journey so long a distance, but it is almost an assured fact that a grand contest will reward them for their trouble. Nothing in the line of sports is talked of outside the holiday match between these collegians, and it is now suppunced that practically every seat in the grand stands has been disposed of.

1 TO 2 THAT TIGERS SCORE.

And in the First Half, Too, Says Tenderloin Bookmaker.

Betters are planking their money on Yale at four and five to one. Princeton money is scarce, and most of it is handed down at evens that the Tigers will score anyhow. Granted that Thursday is a fine day, Man-would allow her to keep the baby so long as she led a moral life, but he doubts whether she would keep her word.

Possibly an arrangement will be effected before liee, 8, when the case opens at ATS.

Mrs. Deacon's brother has written a letter to the representative of the Associated Press, attating that under the advice of her lawyers has sixer has never since the beginning of the unhappy affair said anything to either the American or French press.

Mr. Deacon, on the contrary, has never the unhappy affair and anything to either the American or French press.

Mr. Deacon, on the contrary, has never ceased receiving reporters and has paid certain journais to publish garbled accounts of the affair. He has also succeeded in closing the papers against his wife and her friends. Her silence and his unrecruptions loquacity races for the past ten days knows that is not the case. It is a certain fac from start to finish, and when the cagie eye of Judge Burke falls to do tect fraud then the average race certainly cannot. It is natural for a race goer, after steadily playing what thinks in the best horse in the rice, and ing him lose day after day, to come to concrusion that the horse is not fit. The fore, when this same horse jump runs like a deer as soon as the b

W. J. Spiers was a visitor at Guttenbury yesterday and his short stay was mad profitable by reason of swell bets on Poo Jonathan at tancy prices. It is said that Mr. Pierre Lerillard, it., will next season be associated with his father in the ownership or the Hancocas Stable. Those who profess to know say that this as bryestionary measure only, and that the younger Lorillard will not engage entrivity in turn sifiairs. Should the elder Lorillard suidentialist all the engagements of his borner would be void and their value perceptibly least would stand. This is the only reason for the younger Lorillard's entering into partnership with his father.
